SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC.—In the atmosphere experienced here during the summer months, the lethargy produced by the heat takes away the desire for wholesome food, and frequent perspirations reduce bodily energy, particularly those suffering from the effects of debilitating diseases. In order to keep a natural healthful activity of the system we must resort to artificial means. For this purpose Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is very effectual. A few doses will create an appetite and give fresh vigor to the enervated body. For dyspepsia, it is invaluable. Many eminent physicians have doubted whether dyspepsia can be permanently cured by the drugs which are generally employed for that purpose. The Sea Weed Tonic in its nature is totally different from such drugs. It contains no corrosive minerals or acids; in fact it assists the regular operations of nature, and supplies her deficiencies. The tonic in its nature so much resembles the gastric juice that it is almost identical with that fluid. The gastric juice is the natural solvent which, in a healthy condition of the body, causes the food to be digested; and when this juice is not excreted in sufficient quantities, indigestion, with all its distressing symptoms, follows. The Sea Weed Tonic performs the duty of the gastric juice when the latter is deficient. Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic sold by all Druggists.

VEGETINE

Strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system

VEGETINE

Is not a vile, nauseous compound which simply purges the bowels, but a safe, pleasant remedy, which is sure to purify the blood, and thereby restore the health.

VEGETINE

Is now prescribed, in case of Scrofula and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

VEGETINE

Does not deceive invalids into false hopes by purging and creating a fictitious appetite, but assists nature in clearing and purifying the whole system, leading the patient gradually to perfect health.

VEGETINE

Was looked upon as an experiment for some time by some of our best physicians, but those most incredulous in regard to its merit are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

VEGETINE

Instead of being a puffed-up medicine, has worked its way up to its present astonishing success by actual merit in curing all diseases of the blood, of whatever nature.

VEGETINE

Says a Boston physician, "Has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed I visited the laboratory, and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective; and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE

Is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

PROOF.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

Boston, Feb 13th, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir:—About one year since, I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. Vegetine was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article, and after using several bottles was restored to health and discontinued its use. I felt quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours,

U. L. PETTINGILL,

Firm of S. M. Pettingill & Co., 10 State St., Boston.

I HAVE FOUND

THE RIGHT MEDICINE.

Boston, Mass.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir:—My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the wheel surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease, I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until I commenced taking the Vegetine; and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man; and my skin is smooth, and entirely free from pimples and eruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of Vegetine. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of the Vegetine's wonderful power of curing me of this acute complaint, of which I have suffered so intensely.

Old Miss Gusset's Account of it.

Often and often I just laugh to think of it. Moses and Silas, and Peter, and Peleg, and aunt Jane Godolphin, and me, we all went; and there was Maria Foster and Kitty Peck, and goodness knows who all lots of 'em. Where? Why, I told you, didn't I? To the picnic to be sure. It wasn't very warm weather; summer was over; but we thought we hadn't any picnic, and so we got up one. The Baptist Sunday-School had had one and the farmers they'd had one; and now we that lived in the village, we were going to have everybody enjoy themselves; and we invited Peleg Pottington because he was such a joker, and Sally Sproat because she was such a witch, though they didn't live in the village, to get up some fun for us. So they did.

Well, bless your heart, after we had made it up and planned we were to go to Grigg's Peak, and who we'd ask and all, we were all sittin' in Aunt Jane Godolphin's parlor, and some one said:

'We oughter have a regular spread table, and sit down and eat together of course:

And some one else says:

'Yes, so we'd orter.'

And says somebody else:

'The great brother of them, laid suppers at picnics is, that everybody fetches the same things.'

'Very well' says Ann Jane Godolphin.

'Let's write notes and tell everybody what they must bring. It saves trouble, you know. And people like to feel they are doing just the right thing.'

'Good,' says I. And up speaks Sally Sproat and says she:

'Oh, yes, that's a nice idea. And if you like, I'll write the notes, and Mr. Pottington will help me.'

'They'd been flitting together all the morning, them two, and were full of fun. I nade up my mind there'd be a match of it. So there was. She married him—but that ain't my story yet.

'Well, now,' says Ann Jane Godolphin.

That's kind of you, Sally Sproat. We'd orter take up a collection for note paper and envelopes right away, and Tommy Price will carry the notes around.

So we made up the money then, and there, and one of 'em says—'twasn't me.

'Us that got up the invites, we'd oughter be left off easy about bringing things.'

Says Sally Sproat: 'I think so myself.

I shan't make it heavy for you. Let me and Mrs. Godolphin manage it, and nobody can blame anybody but me.'

Well, we thought that was a pretty idea. Some of 'em are dreadful economical, and liked to get all the fun without any cost. Some folks is near by nature, you know; can't help it. I ain't; but then if you have a few dollars you like like to keep 'em don't you?

So, between you and me and the post, I didn't feel sorry when I got a little note that said—'lemme see, how was it?

'Miss Gusset: Your company is respectfully invited for to attend the Scalptown picnic, next Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. To meet at the cross-roads, opposite the tavern.'

'Please bring pepper and dishes for ten.'

'Well,' says I, 'I did get off easy, and seeing I have I won't be mean about pepper, I'll take one of them big pound packages.' So I did.

Well, Tuesday came, and eight o'clock came, and it was as bright a day as ever I saw. I started early, and took my nephew Pete with me, and a hired man to drive and started to the cross roads, and there we met Miss Sally Sproat and Peleg Pottington in one gig. Says I to myself, 'there'll be a match of it there,' and so there was. They married and—but there now I haven't come to that now. The rest of the folks came up and every one of 'em had a big basket. And we all nodded and laughed, and talked and joked, and away we rode to Grigg's Peak.

At the foot of that we stopped. You see you couldn't ride up to the peak, nor you couldn't leave your horses all day, so we'd arranged to have 'em driven back. Most had brought a hired man, or somebody to drive their wagon back and bring it out in the evening. So we all lighted down and took out our baskets. I can tell you china for ten is a load. Mine was as heavy as lead. And we watched the wagons ous of sight, and then we began to climb. It was a climb, I tell you. When we got up to the Peak we were beat out.

Peleg Pottington, he carried Sally Sproat's things as well as his own, and I thought then he was coming on and would soon propose. Well he did.

But there now, where am I wondering to? And some of the young men did the same; but men, women and children had their hands mostly full of the heaviest baskets I ever saw. And their was the dreadfulest time getting up that hill, tumbling down and screaming and hol-lering for help. I never shall forget.

But we got up at last, and then we sat down on the grass and took breath.

We'd calkerlated 'twould be cool but it turned out the hottest day, just the hottest yer ever saw. My lands! we were just baking and broiling, jest as cross—all but Sally Sproat and Peleg Pottington—they were full of fun. I made up my mind something would come of them. So it did.

Well, we sat and looked off, and after a while we got more good-natured.

'Well,' says Ann Jane Godolphin, 'I'll tell you what I propose. Let's have dinner right off. We're all tired and hungry. I've got a table cloth here. Let's set our table.'

So we agreed on that, and we ladies got up and went to work. We put down the table cloth and began to put on the dishes.

Gracious goodness! the stacks of them. There were twenty-five of us, and as we came to count up, we found we had dishes enough for two hundred and fifty.

'Plenty is better than lack,' says Ann Jane Godolphin. 'Come now what have you brought? Let's set on the provisions. I was let off easy; I was told to bring dishes for ten and pepper. Thought I'd get enough, so I got a pound.'

'I was told to bring pepper and dishes for ten, too,' says I.

Just the same with me' said Sila Pone's wife.

'Me too,' says some one else, and then everybody spoke up: We'd all been told to bring dishes for ten and pepper; we all had.

There we were on top of Grigg's Peak, with the wagons sent home, and nothing to eat all day, but pepper.

We'd done a smart thing inviting those two jokers. They played a nice trick on us. Never shall I forget that picnic, as long as I live. There we sat, and sat scolded.

Sally and Peleg were off together. After a while one of the boys went after them and found them eating lunch she had brought in her reticule and then they brought Peleg back and stuffed his mouth with pepper, and then he fought 'em, and Silas Pone got rolled over the precipice, only he caught in a big bush and climbed up again, and Mrs. Pone she got a hold of Sally and boxed her ears and smacked her face, and there was an awful time, I tell you.

And then it came on to rain, and it poured and poured, and we had to pick up the china and go down the Peak and hide in the woods, and there we were half drowned. And Mrs. Mason's little boy got lost, and it took all day to find him; and when it cleared up and we went into the sun to dry, there came along a mad bull and tossed little Jane Perriwinkle. Didn't hurt her much, but tore all her clothes off her. Everybody was starved, wet and angry, and such a lot went home in the wagon you never saw. It was the meanest picnic I ever remembered going to, and picnics usually do turn out mean, I think.

None of us ever spoke to Sally Sproat or Peleg Pottington again. But they got married, just as I said they would, and there practical joking brought them to an untimely end. You see, one evening he'd just gone down the back stairs, little side stairs you know, set in the wall—and it struck her if she threw down a bundle of something and groaned he'd think she had tumbled down, and be scared; and it struck him, that if he put the kerosene lamp into a paper bag with two holes in it for eyes, and held it over his head and wrapped the table cloth around him and went up stairs, why, she'd think it was a ghost. So he started just as the bundle did and they met—

There was a beautiful obituary notice in the paper about 'em. They was united in life, they said. 'And in death they were not separated' And so they weren't.

Editor and Proprietor.

SHALL THE FUNDING BILL STAND

Delegates at Large.

The secretary of the meeting held at the court-house on Monday the 2nd inst., failed to show in his record of the proceedings that Messrs. C. L. Hamblen, E. S. Bishop and R. M. Bales, were appointed delegates at large for Lee county, to the Richmond convention.

THE Montgomery Messenger says a correspondent from one of the leading Granges of the Southwest to the Virginia Patron, has the following to say about the balance of power held by the Grange. We feel some curiosity in knowing whether the Grangers throughout the State endorse the sentiment. Here is the extract: "That we will vote only for that man who will fairly represent the agricultural and industrial interests of the country, be he Democrat, Republican or Independent. Then give the two political parties the province to name candidates, and as independent voters, we will give our suffrage to the aspirant who will best guard our interests."

Non Partisan.

A correspondent of the Alexandria Gazette, shows his appreciation of our gubernatorial "timber" as follows:

"The brave and indefatigable Mahone, the calm and unobtrusive Terry, the urbane and able Taliaferro, the indomitable and gallant Daniel the intrepid and dashing Fitz Lee, and the chivalric and talented Holliday."

We venture to say that this correspondent is a whole-souled fellow, and that he can conscientiously say with Abou Ben Adhem:

"I pray thee then Write me as one who loves his fellow-men."

The Louisiana Returning Board have been indicted for perjury in the State courts of Louisiana, and several members have fled to Washington to seek refuge in the White House. The indictment is looked upon as a matter of great political importance, at the Capitol.

If Mr. Tilden will now push his quo warranto suit, the chances are greatly in his favor.

The Molly Maguires seem to have recommenced their bloody work again.—John Grady, a non-union miner, and a man named Wm. Connor have been murdered, and James McDermott and Michael O'Brien, State witnesses against several of the men recently killed, have disappeared mysteriously.

The Questions at Issue.

She State newspapers has opened the canvass pretty lively upon the State Debt and Public School Questions, and will, it promises, at an early day, elaborate these two subjects through its columns.

The State very properly claims that these two are the leading questions at issue, and the most important in the campaign. We think with the State that each of the gubernatorial aspirants, as well as those who aspire to legislative honors, should define their views upon these grave subjects, for they are of far more importance to us than "obnoxious dog laws," fish laws, &c. But in its first article on the subject, we think the State falls into an error of inconsistency, which destroys the force of any argument it may hereafter produce. It says:

"Repudiators declare they only want to 'compromise'—that is, to repudiate another slice of the debt. Let us get that fact well into our heads to start with.—All are equally repudiators who deny to pay any par from the smallest fraction to the whole sum of Virginia's debt."

It here admits that Virginia has already "repudiated" one "slice" of the debt ($12,000,000), by the Funding Bill, and the additional fact which yet ruins that she has not yet paid the interest on the other $30,000,000 makes the State to all intents and purposes, a repudiator, a delinquency which cannot be sustained upon the theory assumed by the State.

Let our candidates for the legislature, and for Governor, all speak out, the people want to know their views.

NEXT.

In its issue of Tuesday the State had the pleasure of republishing the declarations of General William Terry on public schools and repudiation. It is definite, frank and unequivocal. Now which of the candidates will speak next?

It is idle to blink this issue. The people will have it met before the election, if not before the nomination. They can see the connection between these subjects, and noisy as may be a handful of repudiators (of debt and of public schools alike) in every county the great mass of the people is determined to preserve their schools and not to yield to the first step towards their destruction.

It is the large landholders, and them only, who originate this cry of repudiation which has been echoed by short-sighted politicians until it has frightened some people and deceived others.

Do Daniel, Holliday, Mahone, Lee and Taliaferro expect to keep silent on these great subjects, and yet to command the votes of the people?

We tell then that the candidate must take his stand, and that all the Conservative conventions in the world can give them no authority to evade these questions, no power to prevent the discussion of them which will bring the people at large in solid column against repudiation under any name, cloaked by any apology.

—State.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Gen. Wm. B. Taliaferro.

EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL:

We see the names of several distinguished gentlemen spoken of in connection with gubernatorial honors. John W. Daniel, F. W. M. Holliday, Fitz Lee, Wm. Terry, Col. Beverly and Wm. B. Taliaferro, are all distinguished sons of Virginia, and men whom Virginia would delight to honor. And in honoring either she would honor herself. And while we would not draw invidious distinctions between men of so much merit, yet in this matter as in all others, men have their preferences. In this hour of gloom and despondency, when despair like a hideous vulture seems ready to swallow up the hopes and energies of the people. Virginia's Governor should be a man whom the people can trust. A man of integrity, high moral character, and undoubted honesty; a man without spot or blemish, like Cæsar's wife "above suspicion." Such a man is General Wm. B. Taliaferro, of the county of Gloucester. Gen. Taliaferro, has been tried in almost all positions and has never been found wanting in any. A soldier in two wars, he distinguished himself in each. A member of the Virginia Legislature for several years since the war, and as such always the advocate of "the right" and the friend of the people. He belongs to no ring, is governed by no clique, or swayed by no monopoly, but in all things free, independent and outspoken in behalf of the interest of his State.

Gen. Taliaferro is the choice of a large portion of the voters of Lee county. This is right and proper, for no man has been a better friend to the interest of her people than he has been. When the bill was introduced in the legislature a few winters ago to compel the Atlantic, Mississippi & Ohio R. R. Co. to complete their contract by building the road from Bristol to Cumberland Gap, Gen. Taliaferro, was one of the warmest and staunchest friends of the measure, and in support of that resolution, sacrificed his nomination for Lieut. Governor on the Kemper ticket. This he did, not to make war upon Mahone, but because it was the right of the people and the interest of the Commonwealth, to compel that company to comply with its contract. And though the resolution was defeated, it was through no fault of Gen. Taliaferro, and the debt of gratitude which we owe Lee and Scott counties owe to him, is just as great as if he had been successful. Then Mr. Editor, urge the delegates who were appointed to go to the convention, and when they go let it be their duty to use their whole influence to secure the nomination of a good and true man, and though Gen. Taliaferro is our choice and the choice of a large number of our people, yet we pledge ourselves to the earnest support of the nominee, let him be who he may.

Morristown Female High School.

MR. EDITOR:

The examination and closing exercises of this well established and most excellent Institution, came off on the 12th and 13th of June.

Many of the patrons and friends of the school were present and were delighted with the proficiency of the pupils.

It would sir, have afforded you pleasure to have been with us and enjoyed the occasion. We regret you were not on hands, and hope circumstances may be next year as to afford you the privilege. The examination was no humbug; it developed the zeal and ability of the faithful teachers, together with the industry and capacity of the pupils.

The plan pursued, was to dispose with the books, and so to propound the leading questions of the subject-matter of the various sciences, so as to demonstrate that the pupil had thoroughly mastered the work.

It had never been the good fortune of the writer to witness such tact in teaching, or thoroughness of results, as on this occasion.

Every intelligent spectator, was forced to see that there was a superiority as to methods, and a reality as to results that are seldom attained, even in our best institutions.

Another feature of the occasion was, the excellent heavior and lady-like deportment of the pupils, throughout the entire occasion. This plainly shewed that the young ladies had been thoroughly taught in regard to things outside of the text books, as well as in those things that are contained in them.

The exhibition on the evening of the 12th and 13th, in Methodist Church South, consisting of vocal and instrumental music and compositions by the students were very superior in every respect, and gave entire satisfaction.

Rev. T. P. Summers, the senior principle of the school, is a local elder in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

He is in the meridian of life, mild and genial in his manners, social and pleasant with all; one of our best men, yet he is firm in his convictions of right and a most excellent disciplinarian. We think we can safely say, that his pupils without an exception love and fear him.

He is certainly the right man in the right place, and should be sustained by those who called him to his present position.

Prof. Lowrey, the associate, is a Tennessean, an Alumnus of Davidson College, N. C., a teacher of several years experience and an excellent Christian gentleman, admirably adapted to the position he so faithfully fills.

Rev. C. E. Dillworth principal of the music department, is a local preacher in the M. E. Church South, a Tennessean by birth and education, and has no superior and but few equals in his department.

In addition, I wish to recommend Morristown, to my friends, through your columns, as a superior point for young ladies desiring to secure an education away from home.

Morristown is healthy, moral, religious, has regular preaching every Sabbath—good Sabbath schools and the best of society. I am sure the educational, religious, social and moral advantages offered here, are as good as can be found any where in this section of country.

Last, but not least, I say to my friends in Powell's Valley as well as every where else, this is our District High School admirably located, ably officered; and shall we not give it our hearty and undivided support. To you as Methodist, I say you cannot do better than to sustain this your own school. Do so and my word for it, you will find no reason to repent your action in the premises.

Messrs. Sanford, Chamberlain & Albers: Gents: Please send me, at once, by express, another dozen of Lytle's Elixir. I find it of more use to me in my practice than anything in the whole list of medicines. LEE COUNTY SENTINEL.
Jonesville, Va.; Friday July 14, 1877.
CHARLES WILLOUGHBY,
Editor and Proprietor.
DEVOTED TO HOME INDUSTRIES, POLITICS,
LITERATURE, NEWS, &c.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.
TO THE VOTERS OF THE COUNTY OF LEE.
Gentlemen:—At the solicitation of my friends, in different parts of the county, I have consented to become a candidate for a seat in the lower house of the Legislature of Virginia, for the next term—subject to the action of a convention if one should be held.
Yours respectfully,
LEE S. FULKERSON.

WE are authorized to announce WILLIAM A. ORR, ESQ., as a candidate for a seat in the lower House of the next General Assembly of Virginia.

FELLOW CITIZENS OF THE COUNTY OF LEE.—I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for a seat in the Lower House of the next Legislature of Va.

WE are authorized to announce PATRICK RILEY, ESQ., a candidate for a seat in the next House of Delegates of Virginia.

WE are authorized and requested to announce Maj. A. B. SURGENER, a candidate for a seat in the next House of Delegates of Virginia.

WE are authorized and requested to announce R. M. HAMBLEY, a candidate for a seat in the lower House of the next Legislature of Virginia.

OUR NEW PLACE OF BUSINESS.—Since the last issue of the SENTINEL, its office and material has been removed to the court house building, where we are now snugly and comfortably located in the room formerly occupied by the Circuit court Clerk. The new location is much more convenient, for several reasons: the room is better, has better light, and will be more comfortable in winter; it is more convenient and accessible to the public, and will give us a better opportunity to mingle with the people on public days.

We are aware, however, that our new place will subject us to some annoyance by large crowds congregating in the office on court days, but we will forbear, and not grumble if we are a little crowded some times, and will be glad to have our friends come in and see us, if they will pay due notice to the "hands off" placards seen upon the walls, and subscribe for the paper before the leave.

SHOT AND INSTANTLY KILLED—Credit at this office.

The thermometer ranges at about 75 in the shade, during the heated part of the day. The air is pleasantly cool.

OUR neighbor, over the way, Mrs. Charlie Duncan has the prize garden of our town. Her tomato vines are, by far the most luxuriant in town, and are laden with an abundant crop of almost ripe fruit of fine size.

OFF FOR THE SPRINGS.—Mrs. Dr. Turner, Mrs. W. L. W. Mrs. C. Cook, and Mrs. Gen. Pendleton, are out of town attending the Hubbard sulphur and chalybeate Springs, nine miles west of town. We trust that these our lady friends together with their little ones who accompany them, may have a pleasant stay, and return home greatly benefited by the use of this excellent water.

FINE GRASS.—Our townsman, Hon. Henry J. Morgan has left at this office a few specimen heads of timothy from his meadow, in edge of town, some of which measures ten inches in length, and which grew upon straw full five feet high. These are the finest specimens of hay that we have ever seen, and show the Judge to be a good farmer as well as a lawyer.

THE PICNIC.—At a meeting on Tuesday night, the picnic was postponed indefinitely, but as only a few were present dissatisfaction was manifested, and another meeting was called, at which it was determined to have the picnic next Saturday, at all hazzards. Arrangements have been made to have water hauled to the chinqupin patch, where the celebration will take place, in case wagons are not obtained to go to the camp-ground. The Sunday School and its friends will meet promptly at 8 1/2 o'clock at the church, to form the procession. The public are invited.

LETTER HEADS, bill, heads, blank notes, drafts, checks, fine visiting cards, business cards, blank deeds, forthcoming bonds, magistrates warrants, posters and every kind of plain and ornamental printing executed at this office and on better terms than can be had elsewhere.

PERSONAL.—Our young mercantile friends, Messrs. W. A. Richmond and Dud. Pendleton, who represent two of the leading mercantile establishments of Philadelphia, were in town this week, and paid us a welcome visit.

The genial Jim Lyon, of Wheeler & Pape's Philadelphia drug house, was also in to see us.

Mr. W. Jones, one of the friends of our boyhood, paid Jonesville a flying visit this week. Mr. Jones represents the mammoth dry-goods house of Wood, Marsh & Co., Philadelphia, and did a good business during his brief stay here.

Prof. Walthall, Principal of Morristown District High-School, has removed to town, and occupies the corner property, lately owned by Mr. Harris. Prof. W. has an intellectual and interesting family with whom we trust our people will find a congeniality.

THE SICK.—As announced in last week's paper, Mrs. Noell has been quite ill; pneumonia is her disease. Her condition was very critical for a few days, but she is now considered out of danger.

Mr. Hudgens has been suffering for several days with an abscess which formed at the root of an unsound tooth, which rose, making a painful sore, and will doubtless have an ugly scar upon his jaw.

Mrs. Martin's condition is not sufficiently improved to admit of her going to the springs yet, but she hopes to get off this week.

ELECTRIC FREAK.—Rev. W. W. Woodward, who lives on Sugar Run, near this place informs us that during the thunder storm, last Tuesday evening, the lightning struck a popular tree on his farm, which is probably 100 feet high, and the lowermost limbs on which are about fifty feet from the ground. Very little damage was done to the top of the tree, but at the point just below where the lower limbs grow, the body of the tree was split through the centre, making a cleft some twenty feet long, and although only an instant was occupied by the lightning in its work, strange as it may seem, a large limb from near the top of the tree was brought down with the current, and carried partly through the cleft when the sides of the tree again closed as suddenly as they had opened, holding this limb firmly at right angles with the body of the tree.

THE editor of the SENTINEL, on Sunday last, like Don Quixote, in search of adventure, sallied his R. sinance, in the shape of a wild mule belonging to Messrs. Hamblen & Orr, and sallied forth after the horse thieves. The editor made a splendid charge down the road and brought up in gallant style, beside the wounded man; after making a critical examination of the battle field, the wounds of Lewis and the state of the weather, this knight of the quill remounted his steed to carry a dispatch in quick haste to headquarters. Like his illustrious predecessor, the world-renowned Don Quixote in his charge on the wind-mills, the editor applied the spur, the mule started in good style at a lively pace, and so continued until he came to the creek near Mrs. Wynn's, when suddenly his muleship was seized with a violent spell of what is known in Texas as "bucking." Result: An editor baptized according to the Dunkard persuasion—face foremost and all over, and if any person wants to be convinced how a wet man feels, just let him put himself in the place occupied by Charles Willoughby last Sunday.

On last Saturday, Jacob Hall a young married man, who has a blacksmith shop at Tradeville, six miles above town, was arrested by policeman Anderson at Mr. Richmond's store, in this place on a charge of having stolen a pocket-book containing $10.00 from the person of Marion Williams. Young Hall, Williams and Owen Cheek, came to town together, and were all drinking; Williams being very drunk. A warrant was procured, and as soon as Williams had been sobered sufficiently to enable him to testify, Hall had an examination before Justice Willoughby. The first witness called was Mrs. Capt. West, who testified that she with several other ladies were sitting at a window in the Farmers' Hotel watching the manoeuvres of the drunken men, who were near Mr. Miles' smith shop, below the hotel, the prisoner walked up the pavement toward main street, when about opposite the window the prisoner took from his pocket a dark colored pocket-book, from this he took something which looked like U. S. legal tender notes; he placed the money in his pocket, and threw the book over the fence in a grass lot; witness was suspicious at this conduct, and informed policeman Anderson.

Mr. Anderson testified that he had upon information of the ladies, gone, in company with Mr. M. D. Richmond, into the grass lot and found a pocket-book, containing a picture; had arrested Hall as he came back down street; the prisoner, when arrested took his seat upon a curb-stone, and slipped his hand into his shoe and took therefrom an advertising card which resembled a $10 note, and threw it away; witness picked up the card, and the prisoner denied having it in his shoe. Messrs. Wm. Duncan and O. F. Wiley, substantially testified the same as the two former witnesses. Wm. Andis testified that he had seen the prisoner take something which resembled a pocket-book from Williams' pocket, without the latter's knowledge; that a few moments later the prisoner walked toward main street. Marion Williams identified the pocket-book as his own; swore that it contained ten dollars in cash when he last saw it; that he carried it in his pants pocket to town, but did not know when it was lost.

After hearing the testimony, the Justice sent the prisoner to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

[We since learn that Mr. Williams has had his money returned to him, but he refuses to say who returned it.]

HORSE THIEF BAGGED.—Nathan Lewis, one of the men who came to Jonesville on the morning of June 20th, with the woman Daniel, and who it was ascertained afterward was a horse thief, from Kentucky, was arrested last Sunday near this place, by Mr. J. H. Reed, in company with another man claiming to be his brother. The story of the pretended elopement and the subsequent pursuit by Messrs. Lyle and McKinney from whom two valuable horses had been stolen is familiar to our readers.

Messrs. Lyle and McKinney were correct in the belief that the thieves would go into Johnson county Tenn., and they followed directly to the neighborhood, in which one of the thieves had relatives living, and they found that the horses had been taken across the N. C. line into Ashe county. They followed and captured the horses, but the thieves made their escape, and on Saturday of last week McKinney and Lyle returned through this place to their homes in Ky., with the horses.

On last Saturday the mail carrier passed two men on the mountain this side of Pattonville, who accosted him with an inquiry as to whether the stolen horses had gone back yet, and if the people were watching for the thieves; the boy gave them negative answer, as to there being any watch for the thieves, and they came straight on to Jonesville. When they came into the edge of town, however, they took a scare and left the road, flanking town through the fields to the left; they were discovered by Mr. Wm. Smith, who raised the alarm, and soon all the men in town were after them. Mr. Jas. H. Reed came up with them at the creek a mile west of town, and commanded them to halt. One of the men did so, but the other drew his pistol and bolted to run; Mr. Reed fired upon him, and although pretty seriously wounded, he succeeded in escaping into the cedars. Mr. Reed then disarmed his prisoner, and brought him into town. The prisoner gave his name as Joseph Lewis and says he is a brother to Nathan, one of the thieves. He is about 36 years old, and seemingly very ignorant.

Nathan Lewis, after being shot, ran about 300 yards, and then fell and was soon overtaken by some gentlemen who were present. The ball struck him just in front of the lower ribs on the right side of the back, and passing through the region of the bowels, came out just left of the navel, making a wound which will probably prove fatal.

The authorities of Estill county Ky., have been notified, and both the men are held for their orders.

Nathan Lewis was fully identified by the citizens of Jonesville, as the man who rode Lyle's gray mare through town on the morning of the 20th, and he had in his pocket, a note from Uriel Altier to the clerk of Jackson county court, asking him to grant a marriage license to Lewis, to marry Demarie Altier.

As we go to press, Lewis is still suffering greatly from the wound, but will, we think recover.

Public School Funds.

I have just been informed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, that an apportionment of school funds, has been made of 40 cents to each school subject. The money will be in my hands in a few days, when I will take pleasure in paying it out to those entitled to receive it.

AGRICULTURAL AND GRANGER COLUMN.

(All Communications for this Column must be addressed to Rev. W. A. TAYLOR.)

Grange Meeting.

The 2nd Quarterly meeting of Lee county Pomona Grange will be held in Jonesville on the 2nd Tuesday of August 1877 9 o'clock a. m. There will be a special meeting of the Grange, the day before (August 1st) to confer the 5th degree on all 4th degree members, who desire it, and have the certificate of their Grange properly attested, that they are clear of the books and in good standing in their Grange. No additional fee will be required of the applicants. Please come prepared with your regalia, and also something for our "Harvest Feast."

E. S. BISHOP, W. M.
WM. A. TAYLOR, Sec'y.

All accounts go to show that the Turkish soldier has not degenerated from his ancestors, who were the terror of Europe in the fifteenth century. For dash in a charge, and for obstinacy of resistance behind intrenchments, the Turks of to-day are probably not surpassed. But, like all Oriental warriors, when repulsed or confused by the loss of a commander, they soon become panic stricken.

Nor has the Turk lost any of his ferocity. At Damascus recently a Turkish soldier went into the bazaar to buy a sword. To try the temper of one, he looked around for some object. Just at that moment a Jew happened to pass. In the twinkling of an eye, with a sweeping blow, the soldier cut off the Jew's head, as clean as though done by the axe of the executioner. Then he coolly pronounced the weapon of good steel, paid the price, and went his way. Such soldiers are apt to be as terrible to the people whom they defend as to the enemy.

A QUEER CASE.—Mrs. Victor poisoned her husband some years ago in Ohio, and was sentenced to be hanged. Governor Hayes commuted the sentence; but she applied to the court to have the former sentence carried into execution, as she had not agreed to receive the commutation, and preferred death to imprisonment. Judge Brigham after hearing the case under advisement for eighteen months, decides the woman has the right to claim the enjoyment of the original sentence. On the motion of the Attorney General, however, the case is to be taken to the Supreme Court. Governor Young told a number of ladies who recently called upon him that if she desired to be hanged he would willingly let her hang.

The telephone fever has broken out in England, where the announcement is made that a "musical conversation" will soon be carried on in public between London and Brussels, and a duet by two singers two miles apart be added to the attraction. The Observer declares that the American experiments are only adaptations of a scientific process invented and patented by an eminent English electrician some years before it was publicly utilized.

In all well-regulated bands of house-breakers, as has been set forth in "Oliver Twist," they have a light-weight who is shoved in through some small aperture to open the doors for the gang. He is technically known as "the kid." Mr. Forster was Mr. "a e" kid, but it doesn't seem likely that he will be able to open the doors of the House on the assembling of the Forty-fifth Congress.

FOR SALE.—In Powell's Valley at Rose Hill, Lee county Va., 18 miles west of Lee C. H. and 18 miles east of Cumberland Gap, a valuable farm containing about 1000 acres, comprising some of the finest meadow lands in the country, well timbered and watered both for stock and drinking purposes, with three comfortable dwelling houses and good out houses, two orchards of choice fruit and located at convenient distance from a post office and two churches, one Mt. Carmel (Presbyterian), the other Rose Hill (Methodist) and within less than one mile of Rose Hill High School.

AN HISTORICAL FACT.—Every agent who has been steadily selling the improved 820 Homestead Sewing Machine for three years, owns his dwelling house, has a good account in bank, is clear of debt, and has money at interest,—the natural consequence of securing a good agency for superior goods at the lowest prices. A good first-class Sewing Machine, most useful—reliable at all times easy to understand and control, the same size and does the same work as any machine that sells four times the price. There is no machine at any price better, or that will do finer or more work, and certainly none so low in price by many dollars. The Homestead is widely known and used in thousands of families in the East and Middle States, and daily becoming popular in the west. It will save its cost several times over in one season, doing the work of the family, or will earn four or five dollars a day for any man or woman who sews for a living. It is the strongest machine made, is ready at all times to do its work, makes the strongest and finest stitch yet invented, and is fully acknowledged as the Standard Family Sewing Machine. Price complete for domestic use, $20, delivered at your door, no matter how remote you may reside. Business permanent and honorable, with more certain and rapid sales, and large profits than any other. Extraordinary liberal offers made to local or traveling agents where we have none established; or if, there is no agent near you, send your order direct to the factory. Address John B. Kendall & Co., 421 Broadway, New York.

TUTT'S PILLS

A Noted Divine says
They are worth their weight in gold.

READ WHAT HE SAYS:

Dr. Tutt.—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to Dyspepsia, Constipation, and Piles. Last spring your pills were recommended to me. I used them (but with little faith). I am now a well man, have good appetite, digestion perfect, regular stools, piles gone, and I have gained forty pounds solid flesh. They are worth their weight in gold.

CURE TORPID LIVER.

Dr. Tutt has been engaged in the practice of medicine thirty years, and for a long time was demonstrator of anatomy in the Medical College of Georgia, hence persons using his Pills are fully warranted that they are prepared on scientific principles, and are free from all quackery. He has succeeded in combining in them the heretofore antagonistic qualities of a strengthening, purgative, and a purifying tonic. Their first apparent effect is to increase the appetite by causing the food to properly assimilate. Thus the system is nourished, and by their tonic action on the digestive organs, regular and healthy evacuations are produced. The rapidity with which persons take on flesh, while under the influence of these pills, of itself indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, and hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, melancholy, dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health and strength to the system. Sold everywhere. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.
